MILE HIGH CITY PARTICIPATES IN NATIONWIDE DISCUSSION ON HEALTH CARE

Citizens' recommendations to be considered by Congress, White House

Washington, D.C. – The Denver metropolitan area will participate in a dialogue on health care in America presented by the Citizens' Health Care Working Group. The community meeting will be held on Monday, February 27, 2006, from 9:00 am - 1:00 pm at Colorado History Museum, 1300 Broadway, Denver, CO 80203. The meeting is free and open to the public, but registration is requested. Registration is available at www.citizenshealthcare.gov.

"Health care has the potential to touch every person regardless of age, race or background," commented Ray Merenstein, a former Vice President at The Children's Hospital Foundation. "The citizens of Metro Denver welcome the opportunity to join this national discussion."

The community meeting will feature a multimedia presentation that provides information on the nation's health care system including problems related to cost, quality, and access to care. This will be followed by more focused discussions in small groups. Participants will share their ideas about how to improve the health care system.

The Working Group, a nonpartisan group authorized by the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement and Modernization Act of 2003, is charged with listening to the views of the American people and developing recommendations for the President and Congress to provide U.S. citizens with "Health Care that Works for All Americans." The Health Report to the American People, was released in October and serves as a basis to engage the American people in a dialogue on health care access, cost and quality issues. The Working Group consists of 15 members --14 citizens of diverse backgrounds from across the country, and the Secretary of Health and Human Services.
